On November 29th Don and Lois Traman and Sharon Fangman met with city officials, contractor, and Cindy Larson from Klinger for an update on progress at the depot.

Window trim being installed this week, lighting and heating system are now functioning, new ceiling is installed in great room and new ceilings are being installed in ticket booth areas, sprinkler system is installed, repair to damaged travertine is in progress, surveillance system to be installed, floors and walls being cleaned, and lots of smaller finish work. The contractor hopes to have everything finished by end of December.

It was mentioned at the meeting they were having problems finding someone to repair the clock. Sharon made a trip to Hannibal, Mo. to visit with owners of Rall County Clock Co. and they are excited to handle the job. They have a special interest in historic restoration.

We discussed the time for our grand reveal and because of weather and work to be done by friends of the depot after the contractor finishes we are thinking March would be a practical option. The drapery fund will be our focus at the open house.

Diane Sweeden, Gretchen Walls, Robin Schneiderman, and Sharon Crawford decorated a tree for Friends of the Depot at The Burlington for the festival of trees. You vote with non-perishable food items for your favorite.

We discussed the need for the city to come up with a rental fee for use of the great room. Steve Parker made motion to adjourn and Lois Traman seconded.
